

The start of our History journey

History in Reception

- I can talk about events from my own past (my birthday) and present (special days in my school).
- I can describe things from the past (dinosaurs).
- I can talk about changes and I know things do not always stay the same (the seasons).
- I can talk about events in the lives of people I know (when my grandparents were young).
- I can talk about my home and the way I live.
- I can talk about important people in my life (my family and friends)
